Serving as a Panelist

One exemplar will be selected to serve on the interview panels for each of the Enneagram Types. Each panelist needs a person with whom s/he is in relationship to serve as a co-panelist. Exemplars need to be familiar with their Type and willing to spend a short period of preparation. Please volunteer if you are interested in filling this role.

About Helen Palmer

Helen Palmer is an internationally recognized teacher of psychology and intuition and a major developer of the Enneagram of personality. She has authored five books in the literature of consciousness, including two international bestsellers on the Enneagram, which appear in 21 foreign translations and have sold over half a million copies worldwide.

Helen has developed and teaches a series of in-depth workshops for the general public that span the bridge between personality type and spiritual freedom. She also teaches training courses in the Enneagram for professionals in the behavioral sciences.

Helen, together with David Daniels, MD, is the co-founder of Enneagram Studies in the Narrative Tradition and of the Enneagram Professional Training Program offered by Enneagram Worldwide. For more information visit:

A Spiritual Strategy for People in Relationship

An Enneagram Workshop in the Narrative Tradition

With Helen Palmer & Speakers for the Types

November 1-2, 2008

Saturday, 9:00am-5pm & Sunday, 9:15am-5pm

Background

The Enneagram is a highly sophisticated system of nine personality profiles set in a non-denominational framework compatible with contemporary psychological categories and spiritual traditions. It is meant to help us know ourselves, understand the people in our lives, and develop our relationship to the greater realities of spiritual experience.

About this Workshop

This dynamic Enneagram workshop highlights people in partnerships of all kinds. In the Narrative Tradition, you'll be hearing panel interviews of couples, colleagues, spouses and friends who are seated on stage as pairs. Interwoven with the story of how type has shaped their relationships, you'll see live role-plays between the pairs, paying special attention to both what they say, and where their awareness is placed as they speak.

Through a lively format of panels, lectures, meditations and type group breakouts, you will have the opportunity to explore your own relationship patterns, accomplishing a detailed record of your points of relational strengths and challenges. As an important spiritual strategy, you will learn to relax into receptivity when your resistance is triggered by your relationships rather than be carried away from the subtle perceptions of heart that only can be received.

Note

At least a basic understanding of the Enneagram is strongly recommended as preparation for this workshop. An Introduction to the Enneagram will be offered on Saturday, September 27, 9am-5pm at the Franciscan Renewal Center. Exploring the Types will be offered Friday, October 10, 6-9pm through Saturday, October 11, 9am-4pm.

Fee per person:

- $230 includes workshop and lunches on Saturday and Sunday
- $275 includes workshop, all meals, Saturday night double occupancy room
- $295 includes workshop, all meals, Saturday night single occupancy room
- $320 includes workshop, all meals, Friday & Saturday night double occupancy room
- $360 includes workshop, all meals, Friday & Saturday night single occupancy room

Discount the fee by $30 if registration is received prior to October 6.

There are 12 CE hours available through the California Board of Behavioral Sciences for participation in this program.
